To whomsoever it may concern

INSTRUMENT FLYING CERTIFICATE

|                            |                     |                  | has und els of Instrument Flying are as fo |                    | n 5 hours of instr | ument flying on     |
|----------------------------|---------------------|------------------|---|--------------------|--------------------|---------------------|
| Date                       | Type ofAircraft | Registration No. | From- To  | SimulatedHours | Actual Hours       | Total( Hr: Min) |
|                            |                     |                  |   |                    |                    |                     |
|                            |                     |                  |   |                    |                    |                     |
|                            |                     |                  |   |                    |                    |                     |
|                            |                     |                  |   |                    |                    |                     |
|                            |                     |                  |   |                    |                    |                     |
|                            |                     |                  |   |                    |                    |                     |
|                            |                     |                  |   |                    |                    |                     |
| Certified true and correct |                     |                  |   | Date:              |                    |                     |
| (Capt.                     |                     | )                |   | Place:             |                    |                     |
| Chief Flight In            | structor            |                  |   |                    |                    |                     |
| A.T.P.L / C.P.             | L no.               |                  |   |                    |                    |                     |